Frequently-asked questions

Q1 My organisation has started a programme. Can we apply for a grant?

A1 Yes, if the programme meets all the NIG criteria. For example, just because an initiative is new to the applicant (eg a start-up) does not in itself mean it is new in Singapore.

Q2 How do I apply for NIG?

A2.1 Please check that your initiative meets all of the criteria. As the grant process is a competitive one, only the most suitable applications per intake will be funded.

A2.2 There are two intakes per year. Completed grant applications must reach NVPC by the following deadlines:

- 4 Dec 2009
- 4 Jun 2010

A2.3 Please contact NIG Secretariat regarding application details if your initiative meets all the criteria.

Q3 How much will be granted? Is the grant restricted to specific uses?

A3.1 The grant is strictly for volunteerism and philanthropy-related costs eg salary for staff who manage volunteers, fundraising-related expenses. NIG does not cover rent, equipment or manpower costs not related to volunteerism and/or philanthropy.

A3.2 If a grant is made, the amount depends on several factors eg volunteerism and philanthropy-related costs, deliverables and how the application compares with other applications.

Q4 Is the grant paid as a lump sum? Is there an “expiry date”?

A4.1 The grant covers up to 80% of costs related to volunteerism and philanthropy only for 24 months, which may be drawn down by grantee over a maximum of 36 months.

A4.2 The grant is paid in several disbursements, based on progress reports every six months from grantees and subject to NVPC’s assessment of whether progress is satisfactory.
